CAO BANG

① When will Insurrections Break Out?

The V.M is often asked: when will the insurrections break out? The people who ask this question are worth praising, because they know that Japan and France are brutal and they hate them. They understand that they can only live if they carry out an insurrection to expel France-Japan from our country. However they have not clearly understood that in order to start an insurrection, what conditions are needed and what must they do? There are 2 conditions for an insurrection:

First: when France and Japan have become very confused and weak and unable to rule our people.

① Before France was very strong with 5 million soldiers and a tremendous amount of planes and heavy artilleries. A French plane could reach our country within 3 days, a ship carrying thousands of troops can reach our country within 3 weeks. But now France is lost and does not have troops and ships to assist the French in our country. If we rise up to kill all French here, that would be all right!

② With regard to Japan, it is being attacked by a number of countries: Britain, America, China, and it can not mobilize all its strength to resist our people. So both France and Japan are weakening and becoming confused, unable to rule our people. But we must have the second condition for the success of an insurrection.

Second: the entire people are unanimous in fighting France and Japan. Everyone is willing to sacrifice for the fatherland. The people are closely united. Who has money gives money, who has strength contributes strength, who has talent contributes the talent. The entire people old or young, men or women, rich or poor are united as strongly as the bronze citadel and iron mountain which can smash to pieces the French and Japanese.

- Now the 1st condition is available, but the second has not yet appeared. Not to mention other regions, right is Cao Bang now, how many organizations have been formed? Still very few!!! So if we want to go to the insurrection quickly, each cadre, each member has to try his best to make propaganda to expand the organizations. The more the organization develops the sooner the day of insurrection will come.

Brothers and Sisters, let's try!
